Tony Leaves for Italy June 23 To Race in International '500'

Tony Bettenhausen, veteran race driver, and his wife, Shirley, will leave Tinley Park on June 23, for Monza, Italy, where he will compete in a 500 mile automobile race.

He is one of ten top ranking American speed drivers invited to race against the top ten European drivers, from Argentina, England and France. This is the first time in 25 years that Americans have been invited to participate in such a European event, similar to the annual Indianapolis races, Tony advises.

The Italian track which was built three years ago, has a 2-6/10 mile course as compared to the Indianapolis 2 1/2 mile course. The turns have a 38 degree bank instead of being flat type as at Indianapolis, Tony explained.

Tony, who is making his first trip to Europe, is eagerly anticipating the event and has high hopes of ending among the top winners of the $75,000 purse with his Novi auto. All participants will receive money prizes according to where they place in the race.

Tinley Park is proud of its native son, who has probably done more to put the village on the map than any other citizen.

Tony, who recently competed in races in Chicago and Milwaukee, is presently doing his driving from behind the wheel of

Refuses License For Liquor Store

The Mokena village board has turned thumbs down on the application of Ralph Thoresen for a license to operate a package liquor store.

Thoresen, owner of The Shopping Bag, a Mokena food mart, proposed to erect a building on the same tract occupied by his store but entirely separate from it, for use as a package store.

Thoresen was informed by the board that opinions of the members heard voiced by the public were opposed to the opening of a package store in Mokena.

The operators of three Mokena taverns, Richard Muehler, James Surovick and Robert Kreml, who were present at the meeting of the village board Tuesday night said there was no room for a liquor store in the community.

All three of the taverns also have a package trade

Civic Association Asks Support In Setting Up Teen Activities Plan

A discussion of activities for teenagers on a community basis will highlight the meeting of the Mokena Civic Association next Tuesday night, June 18. The meeting is to be held in the VFW hall on Wolf rd., and is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. All persons interested are invited to attend.

Joseph McCarthy, a member of the Tinley Park village board and a leader in teenage activities there, has been invited to describe the program at Tinley and give suggestions to the Mokena group.

The subject was introduced at the previous meeting of the Civic Association. Since then letters have been written to all organizations in the Mokena community inviting them to participate in a teen activities program and to send a representative to the meeting scheduled for next Tuesday night.

They also have been in touch with teenagers to get their views and teenagers have been asked to attend the meeting and present them in person.

Last month the Boy Scouts passed out some 500 circulars publicizing the coming meeting.

Harry Fee is president of the Civic Association and Warren Manker is chairman of the teen activities committee. He is assisted by Harry Behn and Elias Brown.

Refreshments will be served.

Pick Candidate For Girls State

Willis Lois Schroeder, 16, who will be a senior at Lincoln-Way high school in September, has been chosen by the American Legion auxiliary of Bobzin-Swinford post American Legion, Frankfort, to attend the 1957 session of Illinois Girls' State, June 18-25, on the campus of MacMurray college at Jacksonville.

Miss Schroeder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Schroeder, 132 Center rd., Frankfort. She is 16 now but will be 17 later this month.

Announcement of her selection as representative from Frankfort at Girls State was made this week by Mrs. Orville Shinkowski, chairman of the committee in charge.

Illini Girls State was established in 1936 and it provides citizenship training each year for approximately 470 girls of high school age.

Learn Duties as Citizens
They learn "by doing" the duties and responsibilities as well as the rights and privileges of American citizenship, in order that they may better understand and participate in the functioning of government at state and lower levels.

At the end of the school the girls select two of its most valued citizens to attend the "Girls Nation," held at Washington, D. C. annually during the first week in August. There the girls are taught the function of government on a national level.

June 23 will be visitors day at Girls State for parents, auxiliary members and alumnae of earlier sessions.

Mrs. Donald Carroll, president of the Legion auxiliary at Frankfort, explained that girls chosen for this state school are selected because of their good character, alertness, honesty, leadership and cooperativeness in their school activities.

Formal application for sewer service by Mokena property owners will be the next step taken in the program to set up a complete sewage disposal system for the village.

At a special meeting of the village board Tuesday night Village Attorney Ray Hoolahan pointed out that the written applications for sewer service are required by the surety houses that will purchase the bonds to finance the project.

Application blanks are now being prepared and will be mailed out soon to property owners. They will be asked to sign and return them with a $10 deposit. This money will be returned later—when the connections are made.

The blanks will be mailed and the property owners are asked to return them by mail. This procedure was suggested at the board meeting as better suited for the convenience of the property owners and the board members.

Sewer connections will be brought to within five feet of property lines, it was decided. This will bring the connections to the sidewalk line. If the connections were brought flush to the property line, it was explained, the village would be in a position of working on private property and that, it was said, the village cannot do.

Hoolahan told the board that work on acquiring easements for sewer lines on private property was progressing satisfactorily.

He also reported, next week the ordinance authorizing the issuance of bonds will be published thus getting over another of the legal hurdles that attend public improvements.

Water meters now in use that are in good condition will be taken over by the village as deposits on service. Incidentally, the board has declared that meters must be installed in places of easy access to the readers and persons who now have their meters tucked away in inaccessible spots will be required to move them.

Under the new system water bills will be sent out on a monthly basis. This means that meter readers will not have time to track down meters. It was reported to the board there are a number of meters hidden away in strange places. In one place, at least, anyone who wants to see it must crawl under the house. In another place, it was related, the meter is in the bottom of a clay hole that can only be reached thru a trapdoor in a closet floor.

Root Beer Stand to Open in New Lenox

A root beer stand, which is expected to open in New Lenox within a few weeks, will be operated by Wayne DePorto and Glenn Warning, of Frankfort.

The stand will be constructed on a piece of property, 100x150 feet, directly east of the Super Mart, in New Lenox, sold by the previous owner, Sheldon Hauck, to Bob Fredin of Frankfort, from whom the property will be leased.

200 Attend Cornerstone Laying Rites

Over 200 persons attended the cornerstone ceremonies of the new Frankfort Methodist church on Sauk Trail at Linden Drive Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Ben F. Day, pastor of the church, presided at the ceremony which followed a Centennial dinner at noon. Words of greeting and congratulations were brought by several special guests at the ceremony. Mayor George Sangmeister thanked the congregation for "an exceptionally fine spirit of community interest and cooperation." Rev. Erich G. Bizer of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church expressed words of congratulations on behalf of the other churches of Frankfort. Rev. Glen Dunbar, pastor of the Manhattan Methodist church and former pastor of the Frankfort church, recognized many old friends and noted the "faith and vision evident in a congregation of 221 members building a $200,000 church."

On behalf of "the bishop, my fellow members of the cabinet, and the Rock River Annual Conference" Dr. R. Merrill Powers, Joliet Dixon district superintendent, encouraged the Frankfort church in "moving ahead with vision to meet the needs of a rapidly growing population."

Put in Newspapers
Several articles of interest were placed in a copper box to be sealed in the wall of the new building as a time capsule. Included were the contents of the 1908 cornerstone of the present building, which were a 1904 Methodist Discipline, "Plan of the Frankfort and Mokena Charge" dated 1906, and four 1908 newspapers.

New articles placed in the box were a 1956 Methodist Discipline, "The Methodist Monthly News" published by the local church, a picture of the presentation of the cornerstone by the Senior MYF membership list of the church, list of pastors serving the church since 1856, Centennial Anniversary brochure, Fourth Quarterly Conference reports, a brief history of the church, and four newspapers including the June 6, 1957, issue of the "Mokena News Bulletin".

Mrs. Joseph McGlashan of Chicago, whose late husband bequeathed $40,000 to the building project, spread the first trowel of mortar. Mr. Arthur Mark Sr., Trustee chr., placed the second trowel of mortar.

The cornerstone was then lifted into place by Arthur Bauch, Building Committee Chrm., and Charles Mark Jr., Senior MYF president, with the assistance of Dr. Powers and Rev. Day.

Many of those attending the ceremony inspected the building following the close of the service. The building is expected to be completed this fall.

Missionaries Speak At Vacation Bible School in Mokena

The daily vacation bible school at Mokena is in full swing, with approximately 200 in attendance. Tuesday morning a special program emphasizing foreign missions was presented by Mrs. Joyce Hoffrunning and Mrs. Dorothy Oas, both of the Ebenezer Lutheran Church of Chicago. Mrs. Hoffrunning, for several years was a missionary with her husband in India, in the foot hills of the Himalayas.

Mrs. Hoffrunning dressed several of the young people in the costumes of their Indian friends, pointing out the difference of appearance, but the sameness of spirit which unites Christian people the world over.

The school will continue to run till the 21st of June from nine to eleven each week day. All children from four years on up are invited to participate.

The vacation bible school is being operated by two Mokena churches, the Methodist and St. John's Evangelical and Reformed.

TONY LEAVES:

a tractor, working against the forces of nature to plough and plant his fields. The snail pace of his tractor as it travels over the 270 acres is quite a change of pace from driving around a track at 170 miles an hour, but to Tony, the farmer, it is just as much a part of his life as speed racing.

The speed race enthusiast expected to address members of the Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce last Monday night, presenting a film of the 1956 races at Indianapolis. His farm work kept him busy far into the night however, and although he could not attend, Chamber members were able to view the thrilling colored slides of the annual event which draws thousands of American racing fans.

A behind the scenes peek at what goes on before the big race revealed mechanics overhauling and checking cars, which undergo rigid tests before the takeoff. The gala holiday mood of the crowd in relaxed pose and attire was symbolized with pretty baton twirlers, band and the release of hundreds of myriad colored balloons from beneath a large tarpaulin.

The moments leading up to the big event were realistically portrayed, but the big race itself kept viewers on the edge of their seats.

Viewing the speed with which mechanics change tires and refuel the cars in the pits in a matter of seconds and the speed at which the cars re-enter the race was like a front row seat at the event itself.

Unfortunately, in the 1956 races, while remaining among the leading contenders, Tony crashed into the wall, suffering a broken collarbone and ending his chances of finishing among the money makers. It was visible his crew chief was hard hit by the unfortunate mishap.

Pat Flaherty was the winner of the 1956 races at Indianapolis with a nice take of $98,000.

It was more than just a race to the Chamber of Commerce viewers. Tinley Park has a personal interest in the Indianapolis races as each year they hope this is the one where Tony Bettenhausen is first at the finish line.

Mrs. Williams said that the board will meet every month to transact the business of the PTA, working thru committees, and will present their recommendations to the members at regular meetings for their approval and suggestions.

She also explained that the budget for the 1957-1958 year has been presented and was approved at the last spring meeting so that committees can start working and that plans will be well under way by the first Fall meeting which will be on Thursday, October 17. This will be followed by our big fund-raising event, our annual Smorgasbord which is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 19, with Mrs. Galapeaux as chairman.

Clay Art Class for Children to Open June 19

Clay arts classes for children are now being organized at the Community Center Foundation. The first meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 19 and will continue on each succeeding Wednesday throughout the summer. Children 6 to 12 years old will meet from 9:30 to 10:45 while those in the 12 to 15 years group will meet from 10:45 to 12. A student may take as many as ten but no less than six lessons to complete the series. These may be taken at any time during the summer so that attendance may be adjusted to the family vacation periods.

All materials as well as firing of the completed pieces, are included in the registration fee. The Foundation Craft shop has a large electric kiln in which the pottery is fired.

Mrs. Howard Fish of Orland Park, who has conducted similar classes for the past several summers, will be the instructor. She holds a degree in art from the University of Wisconsin and was formerly director of art in the Madison elementary schools. The children's classes are planned toward the development of artistic expression in a medium which children greatly enjoy.

If further information is desired, the Foundation office is open from nine to five each week day.

The first landscaping painting class met last Tuesday for an all day session on the Foundation grounds. This class is open to beginners and advanced artists who may attend on any Tuesday during the summer months. The hours are 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and members bring their own picnic lunches.

Tinley Garden Club Will Meet June 20

The June 20 meeting of the Tinley Park Garden club will be held at the home of Wally Rogers on Harlem avenue at 1:30 p.m. If members are unable to be present, please notify hostess.

S. Chicago Eagles Beat Tigers 11-9

Tinley Outfit to Play Riverdale on Sunday

By DAN ANFIELD

The Tinley Park Tigers lost a hard fought battle last Sunday to the visiting South Chicago Eagles from Bessmer Park by a score of 11 to 9. Even tho the Tigers out-hit their rivals, costly errors led to the Tigers' downfall. Jerry Miller pitched a steady game for the losers.

This was the Tigers first loss against two wins. The Eagles remained undefeated in first round play with four wins.

This Sunday the Eagles will tangle with Oak Forest while the Tigers face Riverdale at their field on the west side of the I. C. tracks on 137th st. Oak Forest must beat South Chicago and the Tigers triumph over Riverdale if they are to stay in the race for the South Suburban League championship.

In the game with the Eagles, the Tigers scored one run in the first inning. Paul Ebeling singled. Dan Anfield butted him to second. Ron Studnicki singled to score Ebeling.

The Eagles pounded in four big runs in the top of the second on three hits combined with two errors. The Tigers came close to tying the score in the next inning. Jerry Huff walked and advanced to second when the third baseman was unable to handle Ebeling's grounder. Anfield double to left center. Hug and Ebeling scoring. Studnicki singled, but Anfield was out when he tried to score from second to end the inning.

The Tigers came out of their cage in the third fighting mad. They sent Chorack, Eagle pitcher to the showers after they had collected five runs. Tuttle began it with a walk. Chorack bobbled a bunt by Nasebandt and it was safe at both bases. Don Kuech singled to load the bases. Dave Morlock laid down a perfect squeeze bunt that enabled Tuttle to score from third. Hug went to first when he was hit by a pitched ball. Ebeling doubled, scoring Nasebandt and Kuech. Anfield doubled, scoring Hug and Ebeling. Studnicki grounded out to end the inning with the score 8 to 4 in favor of the Tigers.

The Eagles didn't lose any time in the fourth when they scored three runs to close the gap and an unearned run in the Eagles' fifth tied the count 8-all.

In the seventh the Chicago team banged in two runs on two hits, a fielder's choice and another error.

Miller tried to help his own cause by singling to open the bottom of the seventh. Ebeling kept his batting average above five-hundred when he collected his third hit sending Miller to third. A pop but by Anfield doubled Ebeling off first. Studnicki fanned to end the inning.

The Eagles picked up an unearned run they didn't need in the eighth on a walk and an error to make the score 11 to 8.

Pinch hitter Roger Hug lashed out a long double to left to open the Tiger eighth. Dave Morlock also doubled, scoring Hug. Then the Eagle pitcher bore down and retired the last batter on an infield ground ball. The Tigers were unable to do anything in the ninth inning and the game ended, 11-9, Eagles.

Blue Angel Ponies Clobber Red Devils In Muddy Field 15-1

The Tinley Park Pony league team, the Red Devils, coached by Jack Casey, were dragged thru the mire by the Blue Angels, coached by Bob Jirka, last Tuesday evening on a muddy field. The Blue Angels, in a very unangelic manner, clobbered the Devils 15-1.

Jerry Romanenghi struck out five of the Devils, who used three pitchers, Joe Creighton, John Punis, and Vernon Sloan, in their sluggish defeat.

The condition of the field after the recent rains proved a big handicap to the Devils' catcher, Joe Diamond, Jr. The Angels seemed to thrive on the mushy field however. One little cherub, Bruce Rodger, broke in his new uniform by wallowing in the mud when he slid into second base.

Morton Grove Driver Seeks Win at Joliet

Johnny Riva has had lots of luck lately—all of it bad—but that won't bother him when he bids for his first feature victory at the midget auto races Saturday night in Joliet Memorial Stadium.

The Morton Grove driver, a former track champion at Joliet, was the victim of spills in the first two Saturdays of auto racing at the quarter-mile stadium oval.

On opening night his car was involved in a mixup and overturned in the feature race. Last Saturday, rounding the 22nd lap, with victory practically in the bag, a broken steering spindle caused him to crash.

George Sellery of Chicago thus won his second straight main event by taking over the lead for the final three laps.

Several other track regulars will be gunning for their first feature victory Saturday. Among them are Vic Watson of Mendota, Paul Kerber of Elgin, Carl Geer and Willie Watson of Bensenville, Warren White and Corky Seaborg of Lockport and Jolietans Sonny Bessett, Bernie Wilhemi and Corky Singer.

Time trials Saturday start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m. There will be four heat races, a trophy dash, 15 lap semifeature and 25 lap feature.

Fine Kettle of Fish, Fisherman Report After Trip North

Local fisherman who recently travelled to Wisconsin and Canada for a short vacation, were pleased with their fine catch.

Leland H. Rayson, local attorney, Tinley Park mayor, Elmer H. Knudsen, and Selby Hirsch, brought back 25 pounds of fish from Lac Du Flambeau, Wisc., where Rayson has a summer home.

Ed Prosperi, accompanied by two friends from Harvey, spent a week fishing in Kenora, Ontario, Canada. They brought back a fine kettle of fish, including lake trout, northern pike, walleye pike, and bass.

Prices of black walnut sawlogs are averaging $5 more per thousand board feet at local sawmills than they averaged a year ago.

A University of Illinois rural sociologist points out that rural crimes increased by 15.5 per cent during the year 1956 as compared with an increase of 12.7 per cent in city crimes.

Lucky Angler Gets Two Prize Fish at Orland

Most fisherman are satisfied to catch one "prize" fish in a lifetime. But one Orland Park fisherman, Ed Lucas, has been extremely lucky in capturing two "prize" fish, tagged and released in local spots by a manufacturing company.

The tagged fish have a prize on their head which is awarded to the fishermen luck enough to catch them.

Two weeks ago Lucas caught an eight inch crappie tagged number 120 and the next morning landed another crappie tagged 158. He also landed 12 black bass, none of them prize winners. The prize tagged fish were obtained from Orland lake.

Sport or Industry? Will County Solons Debate Proposed Land Sale

Two Will county legislators who frequently join forces on legislation affecting this area, this week will oppose each other in Springfield in a dispute over the sale of state hunting grounds to a refinery.

Louis F. Bottino, a Republican Representative from Lockport, has introduced in the legislature House Bill 900 which seeks the permission to sell 40 acres of property on the DesPlaines river, now owned by the State of Illinois, to a subsidiary of a large mid-western refinery.

Opposing the sale is Democratic Representative Francis J. Loughran, who contends the sale will infringe on Treat's Island, a free public fishing and hunting refuge for sportsmen in Will, Grundy, DuPage and Cook counties.

Loughran points out that Will county now has two refineries North of Lockport dumping waste in the DesPlaines river, a problem the State Sanitary Water Board has been attempting to correct for many years.

Nuisance, Says Loughran

With another refinery located South of Joliet, it will provide another nuisance problem, Loughran said, adding:

"The DesPlaines below Joliet is used for fishing and boating, and even further downstate it is the only water source for some industrial plants."

Will County sportsmen's groups have gone on record in opposing the sale of the land, which has a half mile river frontage and varies in width from 200 to a thousand feet. Treat's Island was originally converted into a duck hunting grounds by the Illinois department of conservation. It is located in Channahon township.

Bottino has pointed out that by selling the land, it will bring another industry to Will county.

Seek Opinion

However, opposing the sale are George Kijowski, president of the Lockport Sportsmen's club, and James C. Toovey, an Izaak Walton League member.

Wires and letters have been sent to the three Will County legislators—house speaker, Warren L. Wood, Loughran and Bottino, requesting that the bill be tabled—or be let die.

Loughran declared he will strongly oppose the bill thru its various stages in Springfield during the ensuing week.

Sportsmen's groups ask that avid sportsmen thruout the area write Wood, Loughran and Bottino expressing their sentiment on the matter.

Soldier Field Will Become "Snow Bowl"

(CNS)—Promoters of a snow bowl in Soldier Field with ski thought of establishing it in runs and toboggan slides first a suburban area.

"But the cost of getting or making a hill was too costly," said Oscar Brotman, a Chicago attorney and president of Winter Wonderland, Inc. "Seats at Soldier Field covered with snow is a natural for hill and the stadium has outdoor lighting already installed."

The Chicago Park District Wednesday issued Brotman and his partner, Eli Loitz, of Lincolnwood, a five year concession to cover the arena of Soldier Field and seats around it with 26 inches of man-made snow formed by spraying a fine mist of water and compressed air.

To Open in December

The snow bowl—with initial investment set at $100,000—will open immediately after the Mayor's annual high school championship football game in December and close about mid-March. Erwin Weiner, park district special services director, said the outdoor stadium always has been idle during these months. The park district will receive $10,000 seasonal rental, or 10 per cent of gross receipts if this sum is larger.

There will be an admission charge and patrons may bring or rent equipment.

Tow Ropes Too

Brotman plans at least four toboggan slides and four to six rope tows to carry skiers to the top of the 60 foot high stadium. Ski slopes will descend about 150 feet at a 22 degree angle.

Tentative hours of operation are from 7 to 11 p.m. Monday thru Friday and three separate sessions from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and holidays, including the long Christmas holiday school vacation period.

Medicine and Politics

"We have had amply demonstrated to us that medicine and politics do not mix." That quote is from a magazine which can speak with authority, the British Medical Journal. Britain has had socialized medicine for many years, and her National Health Service employs something like 99 per cent of all British doctors.

The Service's current troubles have been much in the news lately. The most publicized issue has been doctor's pay, by any reasonable standard, it is low and the government so far has refused to make adequate adjustments. But there is more to the matter than this economic factor. As the British Medical Journal puts it, "The employees have lost all trust and confidence in their monopoly, employer." As evidence, it cites the fact that in recent months there has been a striking increase in the number of doctors investigating the possibility of leaving England for one of the Dominions.

What are the troubles, other than the salary problem, that socialized medicine has brought to Britain's doctors? The Journal has this to say: "The pettifogging arguments about whether a food is a drug, the form filling, the regulations, earnest discussions on whether a week's leave not taken one year can be carried on to the next, the ever increasing intrusion of the administrator both centrally and locally, all this and much more is turning medicine into an ad-

Across The Counter . . .

"You are richer than you think," I said. John looked startled. "Who me?" he asked skeptically.

"Yes, John,
over the years you've accumulated more things around your house than you probably realize. In clothing alone your family no doubt has half the value of your household
contents policy.
Or probably $1000
worth out of the $2000 coverage."

"I guess you're right, he answered.

"And that only leaves $1000 to cover all the other contents of your home. Do you think it's adequate for all your jewelry, appliances, kitchen utensils, silverware, rugs and carpets, furniture in every room, pictures and books, hobby and sports equipment?"

"Golly no", he said. "I imagine it would total $6000 or $7000.
But I'd never realized before just what that policy covered.
When I said $2000 on the furniture it sounded okay. But counting all the contents of my house, I can see it is certainly short of the mark."

"Make a rapid inventory of the contents of each room tonight. Then let me know tomorrow how much insurance you'll need."

"Fine," John said, "I'll do it."

Then the Journal makes the most ominous statement of all,
"The unfortunate doctor soon loses his sense of direction and will end up by losing his sense

Measures are periodically pro-would give the government sweeping and varied controls over the doctors and medical practice, and thus set the stage for ultimate socialized medicine.

Public Power

When on July 11, 1955 the City of Memphis, Tenn. announced it would produce its own electric power with a municipal system, freeing TVA from the necessity of doing so, President Eisenhower cancelled the Dickson-Yates contract under which the privately owned Mississippi Valley Generating Co. would have built a plant capable of meeting Memphis' needs and other power demands. Public power advocates had won a battle, but as things are developing it might have been better for them had they lost it.

Now Memphis is building its municipal power plant and in doing so is displaying to its own taxpayers and the rest of the country a sobering picture of the comparative cost between public and private power.

The concealed costs in the municipal plant added to the cost of the plant itself, will result ultimately in a total bill of $455,874,580 for the $163,245,000 city power plant which will start generating electricity at 62% of capacity early in 1959.

The privately owned Mississippi Valley Generating Co. would have built the needed power plant for $107,250,000 and would have been operating at 98% capacity this year.

Once more it has been demonstrated that socialism in the powerhouse is mighty expensive in terms of money and time as well as in the far more precious coin of freedom.

Invites Friends to Grand Opening of Dari-Castle June 14

Chester Pfaff, formerly of Frankfort, will hold a grand opening of another Pfaff's Dari-Castle, at 1207 E. Ridge rd., Griffith, Ind., (near Gary) Friday and Saturday, June 14 and 15.

He invites his area friends to visit Griffith when out driving on route 6, and attend the grand opening. There will be special low prices, free treats and gifts for the children during the two day grand opening celebration.

Customers, Friends and Neighbors:

We have a birthday coming up this year which makes us feel good. It is our 10th in Frankfort.

In trying to think of some special way to express our gratitude to you for your support, we came up with this idea:

HAVE A REAL HOME FESTIVAL SHOW RIGHT IN FRANKFORT WITH EXHIBITS, BOOTHS AND ALL THE TRIMMINGS TO SHOW THE LATEST IN HOME BUILDING AND REMODEL-ING MATERIAL AND IDEAS.

There are still a lot of details to work out, but we would like to know what you think of the idea. If you have any suggestions about it come by the store and tell us or drop us a post card.

There will be more to announce next week.

Mokena Girl Scouts Enjoy 3-day Camporee

Girl Scout, troop 107 of Mokena enjoyed a three day cam-poree at Channa Chalet near Channahon June 6, 7 and 8. Mrs.
James Murphy, co-leader of the troop, and Mrs. Hugo Niethammer, were camp counselors. Mr.
C. A. Ronan helped transport the equipment and some of the girls to camp.

Thursday was the one sunny day the girls had so it was fortunate they took their five mile hike that day to Brandon Locks along the towpath. Kankakee troop 206 invited the Mokena girls to take part in the ceremony of retiring the colors and share in their evening campfire on the waterfront. There was a skit, songs and games and time spent in watching the barges drift by on the canal. The evening was much enjoyed.

Rain and cold winds failed to dampen the girls enthusiasm on Friday, though they missed the much anticipated boating scheduled for that day.

Breakfast was cooked on Buddy burners under the shelters along the water front. That evening Wilmington troop 59 joined the Mokena troop. They were entertained with singing of Girl Scout songs and a fashion show put on by Karen Egness, Nancy Bisgrove, Patricia Ronan as models; Ann Lembke as director Patsy Murphy, announcer and Mary Gibson as hair stylist. A trunk of clothes for just such purposes, with an amazing assortment of accessories, is kept at Channa Chalet for the girls enjoyment.

Saturday morning the girls woke to rain beating on the roof so did their cooking inside. They cleaned up their cabin, packed their equipment, and reluctantly left for home but making plans for a return next year. The girls love the camping trips to Channa Chalet and they can generally arrange one trip a year due to Mrs. Hugo Niethammer's generous donation of her time for troop camping. It is required that a nurse or one who has had advanced first aid accompany the girls so Mrs. Niethammer is much in demand by all troops in Mokena.

Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Neithammer believe troop 107 has some very good cooks and hous-keepers. —Ann C. Engelhardt, Neighborhood chairman.

Giraffe's eyes are so constructed that they can see to the rear without turning their heads.

Garden Club Will Send Cheryl Sass to Conservation School

Cheryl Sass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Sass of Marley, a junior in the Lockport high school, has been chosen by the New Lenox Garden Club to at-tend the conservation school at Springfield.

Honor students in high schools in the state are chosen for this opportunity. There will be 400 such youngsters attending camp at Springfield from July 21 to the 26th. They will observe and study wild life, forests and fish-eries in the state's conservation department.

Automobile Has Revolutionized Vacation Habits

The automobile has revolu-tionized the vacation industry, says the Chicago Motor club. Thanks to the greater mobility afforded the average vacation-ist by the private passenger car, more people are traveling farther to enjoy more types of recre-ation.

The basic pastimes of the va-cationist, such as seeing the sights of a large city, enjoying the scenery of our great national parks, swimming, boating or just plain loafing have not changed, but today's pleasure-seekers crowd more of these diversions into a single leisure period.

No Rocking Chairs

A few decades ago, a vacation meant sitting on the porch of a large frame hotel, either in the mountains or by the sea-shore. In either place, you had little opportunity to go else-where if you got bored with your surroundings. Transporta-tion to most vacation spots was limited, and too slow to allow you to make a trip elsewhere in the same vacation period.

The automobile has changed all this. If you are in the moun-tains and begin to long for the tang of sea air, you pack a bag and you're on your way. In line with today's America on the move, the entire family is ready to go in a short time.

The distance traveled by va-cationists has shown a steady increase. Today's motorist drives an average of 1,500 miles during 12 days of vacation travel. This distance invariably includes a couple of large cities, a lake or seashore, mountainous terrain, and rolling or flat farmland. The vacationist may visit a national park or historical monu-ment, or enjoy a host of amuse-ments at a resort.

Fine for the Restless

Mobility of the modern vaca-tionist makes it easy for him to move on if he doesn't like the food or service in a resort, or if he gets restless. Resort owners have had to recognize this fact by improving their service and by offering a greater variety of entertainment.

The motorist has opened for vacationists many hitherto neg-lected areas of the country. He has pioneered along byroads in the United States, Canada, Mex-ico and Europe. One member of the Chicago Motor club is now returning from a motor trip to the Straits of Magellan!

Palos Widow Sues Rados to Collect Bill

(CNS)—Alfred and Joyce B. Rado, of 2136 W. 51st place, have been named as defendants in a suit brought by the widow of an excavation and trucking businessman.

Mrs. Estelle Dea, filed the Superior Court suit as the administratrix of her late husband's estate. Her husband, Edmund V., operated the Edmund V. Dea Excavating and Trucking Company, from their home at 111th and Mannheim Road, Palos Park.

The suit, prepared by Attorney C. D. Kasson, charged that the Rados, who owned the Craft Construction Company, and the Bradley Excavating Co., had received gravel and sand from Dea but have not paid for it. The suit charged that between March and July of 1956, the Rados received 1,879.90 tons of gravel and 1,004.73 tons of sand.

On July 14, 1956, the Rados were supposed to pay Dea $1,756.69, the suit contends. Attorney Kasson said that Dea approached the Rados several times before his death on Dec. 13, 1956, but the Rados would not acknowledge the verbal agreement. Kasson said he has written several letters to the Rados but has received no response.

Mrs. Dea is asking for the money she contends is due her, and five percent interest.

New Chevrolet Bel Air 4-Door Sedan with Body by Fisher

It's got the heart of a lion

(but it's a lamb to handle)

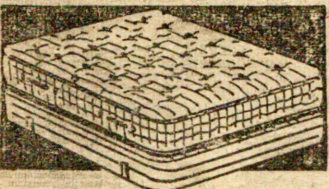

To know a Chevy in all its glory, head one into the open—the more mountains the better. You'll soon see why so many people dote on that smooth sure Chevrolet response and stout-hearted power. Chevy's performance makes their dollars look big!

You don't have to urge this car along. A Chevrolet comes alive with the flip of an ignition key. The power is charged with gumption. The wheel responds in a twinkling to tight corners or turns. And on a back road a Chevrolet steps with ease over ruts that would look like barricades to lesser suspension systems. In short, a Chevy shows "savvy." You can, too. See your Chevrolet dealer!

The ladies of St. Michael's Guild will again sponsor their annual Old Fashioned Country Fair, Sunday, June 30 from 12 o'clock noon until 10 pm. in St. Michael's auditorium, at 14327 Highland ave. in Orland Park.

Mrs. Leonard Heinen, chairman of the fair has in store for all who attend, an array of booths packed with items to buy.

The linen booth will catch the eye of any home maker, for Mrs. Goodall Twining will have handmade luncheon cloths, aprons, sheets, pillow cases and many other attractive items on display.

Mrs. Eugene Czworniak will have on hand in her baby booth booties, sweaters, caps and many more such dainties for baby.

Of course we can't forget the children. A ring toss game will keep Mrs. Matt McBride quite busy along with the fish pond handled by Mrs. Frank Connell and the coke bottle game will give Mrs. John Healy a lot of customers.

To make our Country Fair complete an auction will be held and our own pastor, the Rev. Frank Coyle, will honor us all by being the official auctioneer, selling many interesting items from various parts of the world.

As we did last year, there will be cash awards to the youngest person attending, the oldest person, the couple married the longest, and the person who came from the farthest distance.

All proceeds of the fair will go to Father Coyle to help with the school and bus deficit. Mrs. Charles Dowling will be official cashier for the evening.

As a last call to arms, if there is any one who feels they have anything to donate to the booths they will be gladly accepted by Mrs. Leonard Heinen, Gibson 8-1498.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

One of the favorite whipping boys for the decline in stock market prices during the recent past, has been speculation as to the outcome of present disarmament talks between the Russians and ourselves. There is the thought that airplane manufacturers, etc., will suffer with any serious cutbacks in military spending. Most of the better writers on financial matters give this consideration little emphasis. It is obvious that investors simply are not selling their holdings of the better grade common stocks during periods of such temporary declines and rather have been buyers on declines. Common stocks are about the only practical method of protection against decline in purchasing power of the dollar.

The wage-price spiral is generally credited with the continuing erosion of the dollar purchasing power. Comment by financial writers on this steady erosion of the dollar may seem repetitious and monthly rises in the Cost of Living small in themselves, but the cumulative effects of such rises can be just as destructive as the sharper and more pronounced rises experienced during and after the war.

Edson B. Smith, Financial Editor of the BOSTON HERALD has long been considered one of the top financial minds of the country. On the subject of erosion of the dollar, Mr. Smith recently wrote, "The United States appears to be committed firmly to two policies: property is a must; labor unions must be babied. The average investor apparently has concluded that so long as these two policies are adhered to, they in combination can hardly result in anything but gradual erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar.

"So long as the union monopolies are encouraged to ask for more in the way of wage benefits than labor's productivity increases, and so long as employers continue to prefer to accede to labor's demands rather than risk a strike, it is hard to see how the purchasing power of the dollar is going to be stabilized." It is probably fair to assert that in considerable measure the widespread investor liking for common stocks stems from might be described as a negative factor. It is not so much that investors like stocks more as that they like cash and bonds less. If the dollar is going to continue to drop in purchasing power it at least makes sense to argue that useful physical assets are better to own than cash. Stocks by and large represent useful physical property.

Given freedom from general war and continuation of present federal government policies in respect to money and credit and labor monopolies, we would hate to have to put an upward limit on where the stock market may go in the end.

"The analysts are always talking about stock yields relative to bond yields. So far we have not noticed that they have discussed the buying power of a five year bond upon maturity versus the buying power of the Dow-Jones industrials five year hence."

Forest Preserve Grows in South Suburban Area

(CNS) South suburban forest preserves, already the largest in Cook county, grew by 541 acres costing $634,093 during 1956, to a total of 21,667 acres, according to the annual comptroller's report for the Forest Preserve District of Cook county.

And plans for physical improvement during the next decade, released in support of a plea for legislative increase in the pegged levy from $2,900,000 to $4,600,000, show the south preserves scheduled for $5,226,000 in new facilities, out of a total of $14,719,800.

County-wide, the forest preserves added 938 acres costing $955,208 during 1956, to a total of 41,917 acres.

Worth township added its first 242 acres costing $313,106, followed by Bloom, with 221 acres costing $227,305; Bremen with 62 costing $71,068; Palos, with 11 costing $6,412, and Thornton, 2.6 acres costing $16,200.

This left the distribution of forest preserves with Palos township still far ahead in the county, possessing 9,471 acres, followed by Bloom with 3,603. Bremen ranked fourth in the county, with 2,971 and Thornton fifth with 2,705. Orland has 1,246; Lemont, 997; Calumet, 429 and Worth 242.

Still pending are suits in Circuit court to acquire 45 acres on 147th street west of Central, for which the district has offered $45,000, and 52 acres east of Central for which $31,500 is offered.

In addition, two Chicago townships with forest preserves are on the far south side: Hyde Park, with 472 acres and Lake with 117 acres.

Reason given for both the land and improvement expansion is population growth which threatens to "wear out" already improved areas unless additional facilities are provided.

Supt. Charles G. Sauers said the total cost of present holdings acquired since 1916, amounting to $31,632,201, compares with the present value of over $200,000,000.

"We're envious all over the country because we started to acquire this land early," he said. "We own 100 of the best highway corners in the county, which filling stations would love to get. But they're not for sale."

The increase asked of the legislature in the pegged levy, equivalent to 1.32 cents per $100 assessed valuation above the 1956 forest preserve rate of 2.25 cents for corporate and construction-development purposes, would pay for these improvements over a 10-year period making a bond issue unnecessary, he said.

Following are the detailed projects planned for Palos: Columbia Park west of (Willow Springs road, south of Santa Fe railroad): Driveway parking with two wells, $45,000.

Willow Springs Wood (South of Archer along Willow Springs rd.): Driveway parking, 87th to 100th along U.S. 45, three wells, and two "G" shelters, $107,000.

Wolf Road Woods (At 103rd st. extended west) Two Imhoff toilets, $22,000.

Argonne Forest (Old lab site, Archer west of Wolf rd.): Rehabilitation, $50,000.

Paulaski Woods West (West side Wolf rd., south of Maple Lake): Reconstruct old Palos Golf course clubhouse into open shelter, $60,000; increased parking area, $35,000.

Maple Lake South (East side of Wolf rd. south of 95th): Driveway parking from boat dock area east and south to shelters, and three toilets, $192,000.

Belly Deep Slough (South of 95th, U.S. 45 to Kean ave.): Parking area at U.S. 45, $12,000; parking at Kean ave. $20,000.

Saganashki Slough (South side of 107th, west of 104th ave.): Three gravel roadside parking areas along 107th, $27,600; parking area at 107th and Archer (Murphy's), $15,000.

Camp Sagawa (111th and Rt. 83): Winterize cabins, $50,000.

Swallow Cliff Woods (South of 83, U.S. 45 to 104th ave.): Parking at Horsetail Slough, 123rd and 104th ave. $20,000; two parking areas at Papoose Lake, south side of 123rd, west of U.S. 45, with shelter two wells, and Imhoff toilet, $78,700; three roadside parking areas 104th ave., with wells, $49,900; roadside parking south side of 123rd, west of 104th ave., well $16,600; and reconstruct driveways and parking, winter sports area, $21,000.

McGinnis Slough (West side of U.S. 45 north of 143rd st.): Boat dock and house, $33,000; parking area west side of U.S. 45, north of Wabash railroad, $60,000; three wells, $4,800.

Tampier Slough (131st to 135th Wolf to Will Co. Line): Parking areas, $208,200; Impounding dam $40,000; and five wells $8,000.

Chicagoland Fair Expects Million Gate

World attention will be focused on the midwest as a great industrial, scientific and cultural center during the Chicagoland fair this summer.

This giant exposition will open June 29 at famous Navy Pier on Chicago's lake front and will continue thru July 14.

Almost a million visitors are expected to attend the Chicagoland Fair, which promises to be the most exciting and dramatic event of its kind since the Century of Progress exposition. In addition to numerous free entertainment features, including ice and water shows and network radio and television broadcasts, the Fair will have 11 acres of unusual and dramatic exhibits from more than 250 leading Midwestern industries.

The fair will benefit the entire midwest, highlighting the tremendous economic growth in store for this whole area when the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed. The seaway will permit ocean going vessels of up to 10,000 tons to enter the Great Lakes, making the midwest a world port.

Spotlighting the midwest's forthcoming eminence in world trade will be a foreign exhibitor's section at the Chicagoland fair, where goods from far off lands will be displayed.

Among special events scheduled for the Chicagoland fair are Illinois Day (July 3); Michigan Day (July 10); Indiana Day (July 11); Iowa day (July 12); and Wisconsin day (July 13.)

The Chicagoland fair is sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry. Visitors to Chicago during the 16 days of the Fair will undoubtedly find it an event of great interest to the entire family, from both an educational and entertainment standpoint.

The projects will cost $84,000. Of this the railroad will pay $51,000, the state $28,000, the village $3,000 and Lemont businessmen $2,000.

The railroad's request to close the Lemont street crossing was denied.

Sue to Get Land For Expansion Of Calumet Area

(CNS) The first of a new series of suits to condemn land needed for the Illinois Waterway and Grand Calumet Improvement project authorized by congress in 1946 was filed in federal court this week simultaneously with the start of construction in Detroit of a 136-million connecting channels project.

The secretary of the army filed suit to condemn 2.92 acres located in a 198-foot strip just north of the Michigan Central tracks, between Bensley avenue and the Little Calumet river, which is needed to relocate the railroad tracks.

The government asked immediate seizure and deposited $5,062 as the value of 2.91 acres, and $55 as the value of .01 acre which is a 27-foot strip along the bank belonging to Union Chemical and Materials corporation. Owners of the larger parcel were listed as Bertha Findensein, 33 Kenwood, Hammond, executor of the estate of Meta Haehnel; Genel Haehnel, 1052 State Line, Calumet City; Martha Haehnel of Phoenix, Ariz.; Minnie Gehrt, 10737 Buffalo; August Meinke, 10721 Avenue N; Carl Meinke, 19621 Greenbay.

The entire tract needed for the Michigan Central relocation extends through portions of Burnham, Calumet City, Dolton and Chicago.

Deepen Channels

Last Tuesday, May 28, saw formal launching of the Connecting Channels project with ceremonies at Bob-Lo Island, near Amherstburg, Ontario, where the Amherstburg channel will be deepened as part of the program to make all 27-foot channels by 1962, giving Chicago and Lake Superior ports equal access to St. Lawrence traffic. A 25-foot depth may be available by 1960, army engineers said.

The project, including also work in the Detroit river, Lake St. Clair, St. Mary's river entering Lake Superior, and the Straits of Machinae, will embrace the removal of 44 million cubic yards of earth and rock, the army said. Taking part will be eight large dipper dredges, two hydraulic dredges and a sea-going hopper dredge, and escorts consisting of tugs, derrick boats, launches and dump scows. The working force will total 800 to 1,000 men.

Completion of the Connecting Channels project has been designed to coincide with that of the Calumet-Sag project, which is described by the army engineers as 'king-pin' of the entire inland waterway system in view of its strategic location at a great crossroads of commerce served by all forms of transportation—rail and pipe lines, waterways, highways, and airways"

Expect Heavy Traffic

The $200-million Calumet-Sag project, authorized in 1946, as a connection for the Great Lakes and the Illinois-Mississippi waterway, extends east to Gary, Ind., but its most restricted portion is the 16 miles of the Cal-Sag channel between the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal and the Little Calumet river, nine miles from Lake Calumet, the army pointed out.

"In spite of the difficulties, commerce thru the Cal-Sag channel has multiplied during the past ten years from about 1,000,000 tons to over 4½ million tons annually," the statement said. "It is conservatively estimated that this traffic will reach 12 million tons within five years of completion and ultimately 18 million tons a year. "Work on phase one of the project, the 16-mile Cal-Sag channel, estimated to cost $106-million, began in November, 1955. Completion of this phase is scheduled for 1962."

The Port of Chicago is spending $100-million to develop Lake Calumet harbor, and the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry predicts the result of all these projects will be an increase of $9 billion in value of industrial plant facilities, 2.4 billion in retail trade, and $3.5 billion in wholesale trade, the army memorandum stated.

Private industry is displaying great confidence in future growth of the area as shown by current expansion of industrial facilities, such as the $280 million expansion program of the Harbor Works plant of Inland Steel company at East Chicago, Ind., now at mid-point, the statement said.

Spring Fever Time is Here Again --And Let's Make the Most of It

ROBERTS MANN

Conservation Editor Cook Co.
Forest Preserve

"For lo, the winter is past—the flowers appear upon the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land"—The Song of Solomon (II: 11, 12).

This is the time of year when lots of people, young and old, have spring fever. Nowadays it is mostly a state of mind—not a malady—which commonly occurs on balmy sunny days in April and May and early in June. It is characterized by an "oh, shucks" notion that nothing is very important, and by an almost irresistible urge to play hooky, get out-of-doors, and go fishing or saunter aimlessly along or maybe just lie and bask in the sun.

Back in the horse-and-buggy era, on farms and in small towns of central or southern Illinois and Indiana, "spring fever" was the name for a run-down physical condition naturally resulting from diet deficiencies during the winter months. In those days there were no fast freight deliveries, by refrigerated railroad cars or by airplanes, of fresh fruits and green vegetables from Florida, Texas, California and other subtropical regions. We rarely saw an orange, for instance, except at Christmas. From autumn until spring we subsisted mostly on a diet of bread, meat, potatoes and gravy; supplemented by stuff our mothers had canned and by bins full of apples. Imagine! No vitamins.

There was legitimate reason for a tired listless feeling and no appetite in spring. We knew nothing about vitamins, then, but you can see that some important ones were missing in such a diet. It was commonly believed that, during winter, a person's blood became thick, sluggish, and loaded with "impurities". Consequently, every spring, we children were obliged to swallow nauseous doses of cod liver oil, sulphur and molasses, or bitter tonics brewed from the leaves and stems, or the seeds, of various plants reputed to be medicinal. Sassafras tea, however, was fragrant and pleasant.

As soon as the wild leek, one of the earliest woodland plants, attained sufficient growth, we were sent to get quantities of it for leek soup and, while gathering the leaves, ate handfuls of them. We had such a craving for green stuff that we also ate tender new blades of grass. Later we gathered pecks of young dandelions, wild mustard and other greens for use in salads and to be cooked with ham or sowbelly.

A State of Mind?

Some scientists claim that spring is not March, nor April, nor May. Instead, they say it is the time when the nights are getting shorter, the days longer. That is why, they believe, most animals—mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians and fish—produce their young and multiply in spring. They suspect that the shortened nights of springtime are also responsible for a change in human attitudes and that special languor which we call "spring fever". The cure for it can always be found some place in our 41,000 acres of forest preserves.

At this time of year the woodlands are carpeted with wildflowers; the trees and blooming and clothing themselves with leaves; the fields and forests are tuneful with the calls and songs of birds; the ponds and sloughs, populated with wild ducks and shorebirds, are clamorous with the "love music" of frogs and toads. If you like to fish, there are plenty of good places for that. Or you may saunter along the trails thru woodlands and meadows where you find solitude, peace and relaxation.

As one little boy said: "Every place you look there is something to see."

Since the development of nylon back in 1938, the use of oil-based, man-made fibers has tripled.

Mason Would Cut Down on Foreign Aid

By CONG. N. M. MASON

In a recent broadcast President Eisenhower made a plea in behalf of his Foreign Aid Program. In that broadcast he based his arguments upon the false premise that "each one of these 42 nations is vital to our own defense."

We have given out foreign aid to no less than 77 different nations. We have mutual aid agreements with 42 of these nations. No one can possibly tell which of these 42 nations is vital to our security, which will stand up under a test, and which is taking Uncle Sam for an expensive ride.

Congress must check past foreign aid efforts, must evaluate, and must ascertain the facts before appropriating the billions asked. We must know whether foreign aid has been well handled, whether it cannot be better handled, and whether it cannot be drastically reduced or discontinued altogether.

The following facts are from the record:

1. We gave the government of Norway $300 million which they promptly applied to their national debt.
2. We built for Portugal a 15-mile six-lane highway, connecting Lisbon with the gambling resort of Estoril.
3. American tax dollars have provided dress suits for Grecian undertakers, public baths for Egyptians camel-drivers and ice-boxes for Eskimos.
4. We have built an Italian village that nobody wanted to live in, and a road in Iran that leads nowhere.

This sort of ridiculous extravagance American taxpayers resent. It is the result of Do-Gooders like Stassen handling our foreign aid program instead of hard-headed business men.

The present blueprints for dispensing foreign aid are wasteful, inefficient, and in some cases absolutely silly. They should be overhauled and revised before Congress appropriates another dollar for foreign aid. There are enough billions in the foreign aid pipeline now, heretofore appropriated, to keep the program going for another year. Why appropriate more at this time?

"The Great Giveaway"

"The Great Giveaway" is a recent book written by Eugene Castle. It pictures the realities of our foreign aid program, pointing out its good points and its glaring mistakes. It is a book that should be read by every American business man and taxpayer. It is a book that should be on the shelves of every public library. The following quote from the book will give the reader a little taste of the contents:

(a) "The recklessness with which the Lend Lease money was lavished was revealed in 1952 when Col. Igor Bogolepov, former counselor of the Russian foreign office, told the senate internal security subcommittee that Harry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's lend lease envoy to Moscow in July, 1941, did not insist upon commitments from the Russians which they were then prepared to grant. Col. Bogolepov disclosed that Stalin appointed a committee, headed by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, to draw up maximum concessions which the Soviet should be prepared to make, if necessary, to the Americans to secure Lend Lease aid. Reportedly, these concessions included the granting of civil liberties to the Russian people, admittance of American observers behind the Soviet lines, American inspection of the use of Lend Lease materials, mining concessions to Americans for manganese production, and the opening of Siberia to American investments. To the Soviets' surprise, Hopkins, on his arrival, asked for none of these concessions. Lend Lease was granted to Russia virtually without restrictions, and was used cynically by Stalin to strengthen the Kremlin for the after-war duel with America."

Pierre Menard Home Rates High on List of Historic Houses in U.S.

BY JOHN W. ALLEN

Southern Illinois University

The house that Pierre Menard built on the bank of the river across from the town of Kaskaskia in 1802 merits a high place on any list of historic homes in the United States. This sturdy old frame house of French Colonial design is nice to look at; its lines and proportions are pleasing. Moreover, it has remained unaltered through the years and appears today as it did when its builder completed it 155 years ago.

It then stood on the east bank of the Kaskaskia River, looking toward the ancient town of that name. The Mississippi was seven miles away. Today the house, tho it stands unmoved at its original location, faces directly upon the Mississippi, continuing the meantime to look toward the spot where the town of Kaskaskia once stood. Rather, it looks directly at a high levee that obscures the view of both.

This paradox clears when it becomes known that many years ago the Mississippi, while in flood stage, cut a new channel across a narrow strip of land that separated it from the Kaskaskia a few miles above the town and shifted its current accordingly. In making this shift it incidentally washed away the entire town of Kaskaskia, once the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley.

Only Remaining House

Among the houses that were a part of the Kaskaskia scene only the house that Menard built against the foot of the bluff on the river side of Garrison Hill remains. It has seen much change and, as the years have passed, it has become more and more an object of central interest.

The house considered alone is of interest, and so is the man who built it. Each alike adds to the legend of the other. Perhaps it would not be improper to say that Pierre Menard and the Menard home occupy a position for Illinois much like that of Washington and Mount Vernon for the nation.

Pierre Menard was born at St. Antoine, near Montreal, Canada, in 1766. He left Canada and went to Vincennes in 1787. This was during the period when many of the French in Indiana and Illinois were moving into Spanish territory to the west of the Mississippi. At Vincennes young Pierre entered the employ of Col. Francois Vigo, an Indian trader with whom he made at least one trip to Philadelphia to confer with President Washington concerning the defense of the western country.

In 1791 Menard came to Kaskaskia and entered a business partnership with Touissant DuBois. He soon became a prosperous merchant, fur buyer and Indian trader. Here he twice married into prominent and influential French families. After a few years in the town he left it to build the present house.

An Influential Man

Soon after coming to Illinois, Menard began to attract favorable attention. He was appointed to command the militia and was named a judge of the court of common pleas, serving 10 years in that capacity. He was also appointed to other offices, serving some time as judge in a special orphan's court. His name frequently appears as 'next of friend' for someone who otherwise could not gain access to court.

Menard served as a member of the territorial legislature of Indiana from 1801 until 1809. In the spring of 1810 he was with Andrew Henry at the Three Forks of the Missouri, where they established the first organized trapping venture in that region. He was elected to the first Illinois territorial legislature, becoming its president in 1812. Despite all his participation in government, it was not until 1816 that he was formally naturalized as a citizen of the United States.

When time came to frame a constitution for the new State of Illinois, Menard became a member of the group entrusted with the task. When time came to elect officers for the newly-formed state, it was found that the governor and lieutenant governor must be native-born United States citizens. The Illinois constitution was promptly revised to permit anyone two years a citizen of the country to serve in that office. Menard accordingly was chosen lieutenant governor under Shadrach Bend.

Fair in Dealings

After completing his term, Menard retired to his home beside the Kaskaskia to live a quiet life, to entertain his many visitors, and to attend to wide business interests.

At different times he was called to help in treating with the Indians, whom it is said he "instinctively" understood. The Indians respected and trusted him. There is no indication that Menard ever used deceit when dealing with them. Neither did they betray him. The same apparently was true in his dealings with the whites.

Today a county and a town in Illinois are named for him. A bronze statue, the gift of a son of one of his business partners, stands on the capitol grounds at Springfield, with the simple inscription, "MENARD", carved on the granite base. His name is spread thickly upon the territorial records of both Indiana and Illinois, and upon the early state records of the latter.

As has already been said, the home he built on the banks of the Kaskaskia still stands. Visitors many wander through the rooms of the old house, go to the kitchen with its shaped stone sink, built-in oven and fireplace with crane and pendant where the meals were prepared to be carried across the open way to the dining room.

Draws Many Visitors

Visitors also go thru the stone-brick building designated as the "Slave House" where the house servants evidently were quartered. Some years ago, very old people told of seeing the ruins of a row of log cabins that stood against the foot of the cliff south of the present house. Tradition indicated these as the quarters where Menard's field slaves stayed.

Provisions have been made recently for needed repairs to guarantee the preservation of the building. Such belongings of Menard's as are available are to be brought here. Any other needs to complete his home would be supplied by authentic pieces of that time.

Thousands of visitors now come to see the home each year. With proper restoration, it could become an even greater mecca for those interested in the early history of the state.

TODAY'S meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Acts 16:9-15

A vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. (Acts 16:9.) Paul was in Troas. His missionary journey in Asia Minor was finished. Timothy had lately joined Paul and Silas in their journey.

Paul seemed to want to stay in Asia Minor, but a vision appeared to him in the night, the call to go into Macedonia. He was obedient to that call.

Like Paul, do we obey our Macedonia calls? Do we take the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ wherever the Holy Spirit leads us? Do we take it where it has not been heard before, or where it is seldom heard? Do we give of our earnings to help others to carry the good news to other peoples of the world? Let us dare to be messengers of Christ, carrying the gospel as did Paul and others before us.

PRAYER

Our heavenly Father, we are thankful for Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who came to be our Saviour and Lord. Help us to accept Him. Give us the strength and guidance to proclaim in word and life the gospel of Thy Son. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Today I will be a trail blazer of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The healing and protecting power of effective prayer will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, June 16, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Psalms (145:18, 19): "The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him; He also will hear their cry, and will save them."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (231:8): "If God heals not the sick, they are not healed, for no lesser power equals the infinite All-power; but God, Truth, Life, Love, does heal the sick through the prayer of the righteous."

The Golden Text is from Hosea (12:13): "By a prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt and by a prophet was he preserved."

Seeks Jobs For Ex-TB Victims From Oak Forest

As the parting shot toward the tuberculous patients' recovery, this month and every month of the year, Oak Forest Institutions Tuberculosis Rehabilitation Director William R. Langbauer goes about finding jobs for medically recovered patients.

This month he'll again need about six jobs. Almost half the patients released each month need the push of having a job waiting for them to launch them back into active society. Dr. George C. Turner, medical director, has directed their medical recovery. Now they need a job.

This month Oak Forest Institutions TB rehabilitation counselors were formally instructed in the use of the Illinois state employment service general aptitude tests.

Use of these tests and the industrial forms available for them will result in increased service both to the patient and to local business and industry.

Thru their use Oak Forest can recommend ex-patients for employment in terms of test results which have national recognition by personnel officials.

Oak Forest Institutions Superintendent Carl K. Schmidt, Jr. hopes this business like type of recommendation will increase the number of job opportunities for recovered patients thus furthering the rehabilitation of tuberculous patients.

Last year Oak Forest found jobs for 22 patients and referred 40 more to other jobs as a result of intensive vocational guidance and training.

FARM NEWS

For Cook County
by W.F. Whiteside

Assistant farm adviser

Demonstration plots are an excellent method of furnishing visual information about crop varieties and new farming practices. Several plots have been established in South Cook county. These plots are for the information of all farmers. I encourage you to watch the progress of these demonstrations thruout the summer.

Sweet corn: Willis Norman, Worth; Bill Lorenz, Chicago Heights. Tomatoes: Bill Lorenz. Cucumbers: Claude Myers, Chicago Heights; Jerry Vos, Homewood. Hybrid onions: Ralph VanderZee, Judd Dalenburg, John Wagner, all of South Holland. Peppers: Bob Tromp, So. Holland. Egg plant: Bob Tromp. Muskmelon: C. W. Parrlberg, So. Holland. Vegetable varieties and weed control: Herbert Kohl, Matteson. Oat variety trial: Owen Maue, Tinley Park. Soybean varieties trial: Fred Niemeyer, Tinley Park.

A special word of thanks is extended to the cooperators in these demonstrations. Field days are being planned to provide an opportunity for close inspection of the demonstrations.

Difficulties with evergreens at this time of year may be due to spider mites. To tell if this pest is present, place a piece of white paper below a branch of the shrub and jar the branch hard. If you find tiny red spots on the paper, spider mites are present.

You can control this pest fairly effectively by spraying the plant with a forceful stream of water. Doing this several times during early June should remove the difficulty for the summer. Sulfur dusts or sprays will also control spider mites.

These preparations are available at your local garden supply store.

New strawberry beds planted this spring should be side-dressed with ammonium nitrate in early June. You'll need about one half to one handful per plant.

Be sure to remove all blossoms on these new plants to permit better runner production. As the runner plants develop, try to have them root about 6 to 8 inches apart. It is best not to let the row get more than 24 inches wide.

If you have an old strawberry bed that you want to renew, narrow the rows after harvest with a small rototiller or garden tractor so that they are about 4 to 6 inches wide. On beds that are being renewed, apply about 5 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer for every 1000 square feet.

Bean leaf beetle: This pest may concentrate in some of the early bean fields. They are now abundant in grass and alfalfa fields, but will search for bean fields soon. Ordinarily leaf feeding by this insect is not important. Occasionally, however, stands are reduced. Should this situation arise, 1/4 pound of dieldrin 1 1/2 pounds of toxaphene, or 1 1/2 pounds of DDT per acre will control them adequately. If garden beans are involved, use rotenone after the pods have begun to form.

Nuclear Power Opens New Field For Navy Men

Developments in the new era navy are such that carriers with well-nigh unlimited opportunities are opening up for many enlisted Navy men, according to personnel at the recruiting station in the Joliet postoffice.

Three nuclear power programs in a short time.

—nuclear powered submarines; nuclear powered surface ships; and army package power reactor—for which qualified naval personnel may volunteer for training and duty, are now available.

The submarine program already has a good start. Two nuclear powered submarines are in commission and several more are under construction. One of those presently under construction, the Skipjack, will combine nuclear power with the latest in hull design. The Skipjack will be the fastest, most maneuverable submarine in the world, and with her nuclear power will be able to perform with peak efficiency during prolonged undersea operations.

The nuclear powered guided missile cruiser, Long Beach, is now under construction at Quincy Mass., and is due to join the fleet in 1960. Present plans call for addition of one nuclear powered giant supercarrier per year, beginning about 1961. Other types of nuclear powered surface ships have progressed gressed thru the design stage.

The nuclear power training program, very small in the beginning, has undergone considerable expansion. It will expand even more in the near future. As ships are commissioned, trained men must be available to operate them.

Carrier opportunities in the nuclear field are excellent. The navy, it is said is the foremost leader in atomic development. Personnel entering this training now while the field is still in its infancy will be much in demand as the program expands. They will be skilled operators and instructors for new personnel entering the nuclear field.

Will Mokena Have A Large Community Mausoleum?

The community survey indicates that one of at least 60 crypts is warranted at this time.

BENEFITS TO MOKENA

Requiring little care itself, it would provide funds for general cemetery care and improvement.

It would beautify a front section of St. John's Cemetery, Mokena, (the old entrance way.)

In this growing community it would conserve cemetery space and establish a conservation and memorial plan for future generations.

BENEFIT TO INDIVIDUALS

Clean, dry, secure entombment arrangements made calmly, before the need, at a cost less than average ground burial.

As an investment before use, untaxed and increases in value thru the years.

THEREFORE

Mokena should have a Mausoleum BEFORE the cemeteries become full and abandoned.

BEFORE Mokenans must become nonentities in a distant cemetery.

BUT

tombstone interests distributed a horror story on, we quote, "Improperly constructed" (collapsed in 20 years, castles in the air last longer) Mausoleums. Unthinking dupes have orally spread this story to all mausoleums,

Even this Sod covered hillside type which is never entered and therefore cannot be affected by odors, air, rain or snow.

WHEREAS

your Cemetery Managing Board is guaranteed Steel reinforced, government specification concrete, the life of which is no longer to be unknown when under sod.

Would hundred million dollar dams be built, if they would only last 20 years?

ACTION REQUIRED NOW

We cannot contact everyone individually. The Mausoleum plan is threatened unless those who desire the benefits, reserve crypts before the tentative

Closing date of July 15

as no extra crypts are planned.

Reservations may be made thru Mrs. Willis Liston, 50 Front St., Mokena, Tel. 2081 or John R. Lilly, 214 Ashland, River Forest, Ill.

30,000 More Gas Co. Customers Eligible for Push-Button Heat

Northern Illinois Gas Company reported today to the Illinois commerce commission that letters were being mailed out to approximately 30,000 customers authorizing them to use natural gas for space heating.

The current releases cover all customers who had applied for this service on or before July 16, 1954 for existing homes and on or before September 23, 1954 for individual new homes.

In accordance with the gas restriction order under which the company is operating, gas heat authorizations are issued only for single family dwellings and those authorized have 12 months in which to complete their installations. Based on past experience, about two thirds of those offered gas heat will accept and install the necessary equipment.

Number Unexpected

Marvin Chandler, president of Northern Illinois Gas, said that the new releases were made possible by some developments that were not anticipated earlier in the year. The Federal Power Commission recently granted Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, one of Northern Illinois Gas Company's suppliers of natural gas, temporary approval to increase the capacity of its compressor stations which will enable it to deliver a small additional amount of gas, about 35 million cubic feet per day, to the Chicago area before the end of the year.

In addition to this, Chandler said, "a little more gas will be available from the Herscher storage project, and the company has been able to make satisfactory arrangements for an increased supply of propane for next winter."

Hope for New Line

"Propane gas", he explained, "is used on colder days to supplement the available supply of natural gas. These and certain other minor developments, while not of great magnitude, promise to be helpful."

After taking into account today's release, the company will still have a list of 110,000 awaiting authorization. Chandler said he felt that these could be handled after the major expansion project proposed by the pipeline company is approved and construction completed. "We are hoping that this can be accomplished in time for the 1958-59 winter, but this cannot be assured at this time", he added.

Yesterday the Illinois commerce commission, upon petition of the company, issued the ninth revision of the company's restriction order. Revisions have been made from time to time, as the company's experience proved necessary, to facilitate administration of the restriction order and to assure equitable allocation of any available gas.

The new order, in addition to providing some changes in method of receiving and processing builders' applications, consolidates a separate order that previously was issued to the Union Gas & Electric Co., covering the company's Bloomington division. That utility was acquired by Northern Illinois Gas Co. in 1954.

Human Error Main Factor In Auto Crashes

Death on U. S. highways continues to climb and the finger of blame is pointed directly at Mr. Average Motorist himself by The Travelers Insurance Companies in their 23rd annual highway safety book entitled "Heedless Horsepower."

More than 40,000 Americans were killed and 2,368,000 injured on our highways last year, according to the report and an analysis of these casualties shows that human error was the biggest factor in a big majority of cases.

Faulty equipment was blamed for less than four per cent of the fatalities. Bad weather prevailed in only 15 per cent of the instances. Accidents occurred when cars were going straight ahead in 75 percent of the cases.

Some statisticians have attempted to prove that the danger ers on our highways are decreasing, because the rate of death per miles traveled and vehicles registered has decreased sharply in recent years.

"Heedless Horsepower; It is a chronic disease of the Age of the Automobile," the report states. Everyone who is in a posi-
